

State and Territory ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

ADMINISTRATION FOR
CHILDREN & FAMILIES

 Office of Child Care

Alabama ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

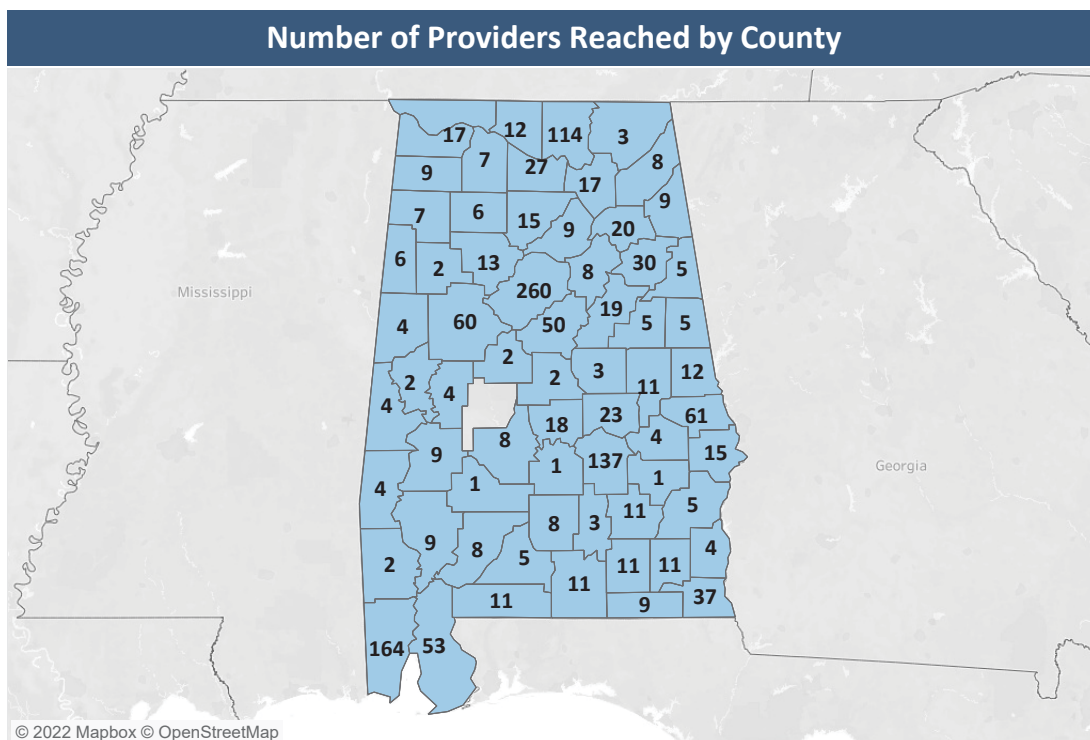

1,450 Child Care Programs in Alabama have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 86,400 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Alabama with $451.4 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Alabama:

- Providers in 99% of Alabama counties have received funds.
- 995 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 455 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- Stabilization payments are expected to continue into 2023.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.
Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

Alaska ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

425 Child Care Programs in Alaska have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 16,000 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Alaska with $45.3 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Alaska:

- Providers in 55% of Alaska counties have received funds.
- 205 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 220 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- Stabilization payments are expected to continue into 2023.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

Arizona ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

2,565 Child Care Programs in Arizona have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 238,600 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Arizona with $596.4 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Arizona:

- Providers in 100% of Arizona counties have received funds.
- 1,810 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 755 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- Stabilization payments are expected to continue into 2023.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

Arkansas ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

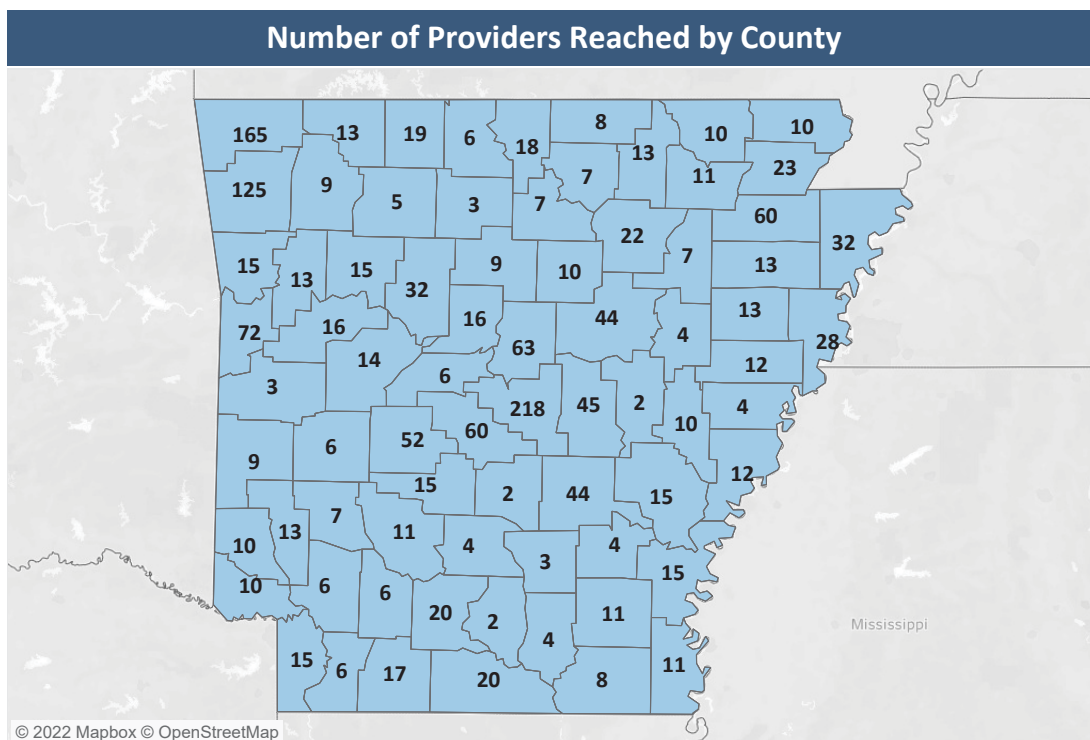

1,670 Child Care Programs in Arkansas have already Received American Rescue
Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 153,500 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Arkansas with $286.1 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Arkansas:

- Providers in 100% of Arkansas counties have received funds.
- 1,490 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for goods and services necessary to operate the program.
- 180 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for goods and services necessary to operate the program.
- Stabilization payments are expected to continue into 2023.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

California ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

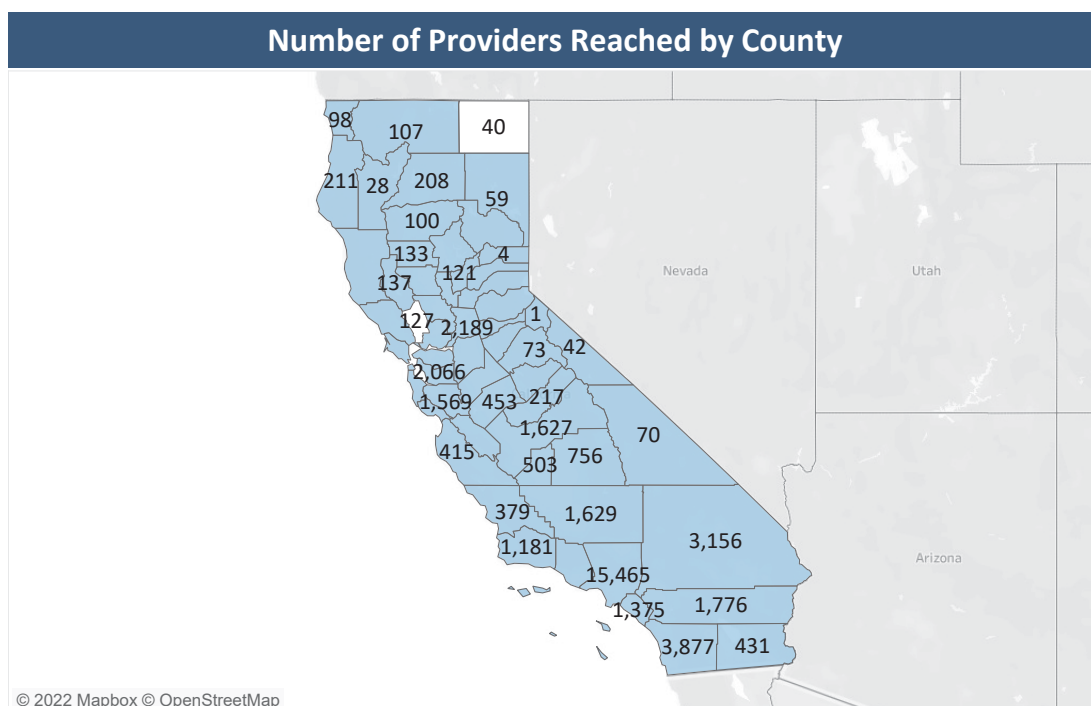

50,030 Child Care Programs in California have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 311,500 Children

ARP's historic investment provided California with $2.3 billion for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In California:

- Providers in 100% of California counties have received funds.
- 83% of child care centers that received Stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 82% of child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- Stabilization payments are expected to continue into 2023.

Note: Includes a combination of ACF-901 and ACF-801 data as of June 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

Colorado ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

3,475 Child Care Programs in Colorado have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 265,700 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Colorado with $286.2 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Colorado:

- Providers in 98% of Colorado counties have received funds.
- 2,410 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 1,065 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- Stabilization payments are expected to Stabilization through 2022.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

Connecticut ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

2,575 Child Care Programs in Connecticut have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 104,900 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Connecticut with $169.9 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Connecticut:

- Providers in 100% of Connecticut counties have received funds.
- 1,265 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 1,360 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- On average, child care centers have received an award of $85,300 and family homes received $10,300. The final award sizes are expected to increase as payments continue into 2023.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

CT's center and family child care data included a small number of duplicate counts, so do not sum to the correct total.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

Delaware ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

870 Child Care Programs in Delaware have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 45,200 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Delaware with $66.8 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Delaware:

- Providers in 100% of Delaware counties have received funds.
- 390 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 480 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- On average, child care centers have received an award of $164,500 and family homes received $43,500.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

District of Columbia ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

390 Child Care Programs in District of Columbia have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 20,300 Children

ARP's historic investment provided District of Columbia with $39.8 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In District of Columbia:

- Providers in 100% of District of Columbia counties have received funds.
- 300 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 90 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for goods and services necessary to operate the program.
- Stabilization payments are expected to continue into 2023.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

Florida ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

7,585 Child Care Programs in Florida have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 703,200 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Florida with $1.5 billion for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Florida:

- Providers in 100% of Florida counties have received funds.
- 5,725 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 1,860 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- Stabilization payments are expected to continue into 2023.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

Georgia ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

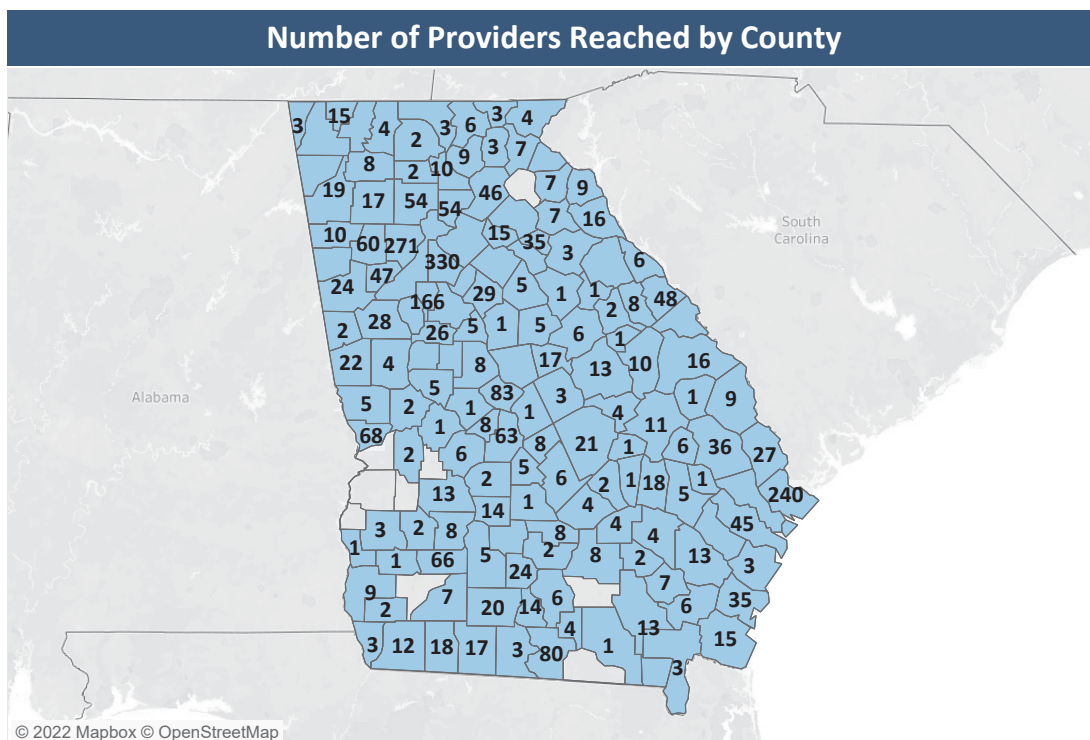

3,870 Child Care Programs in Georgia have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 334,900 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Georgia with $968.3 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Georgia:

- Providers in 94% of Georgia counties have received funds.
- 2,795 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 1,075 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- Stabilization payments are expected to continue into 2023.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

Hawaii ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

600 Child Care Programs in Hawaii have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 30,200 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Hawaii with $79.9 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Hawaii:

- Providers in 80% of Hawaii counties have received funds.
- 395 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 205 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- On average, child care centers have received an award of $131,100 and family homes received $25,600. The final award sizes are expected to increase as payments continue into 2023.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

Idaho ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

745 Child Care Programs in Idaho have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 41,000 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Idaho with $138.6 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Idaho:

- Providers in 82% of Idaho counties have received funds.
- 445 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 300 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- Stabilization payments are expected to continue into 2023.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

Illinois ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

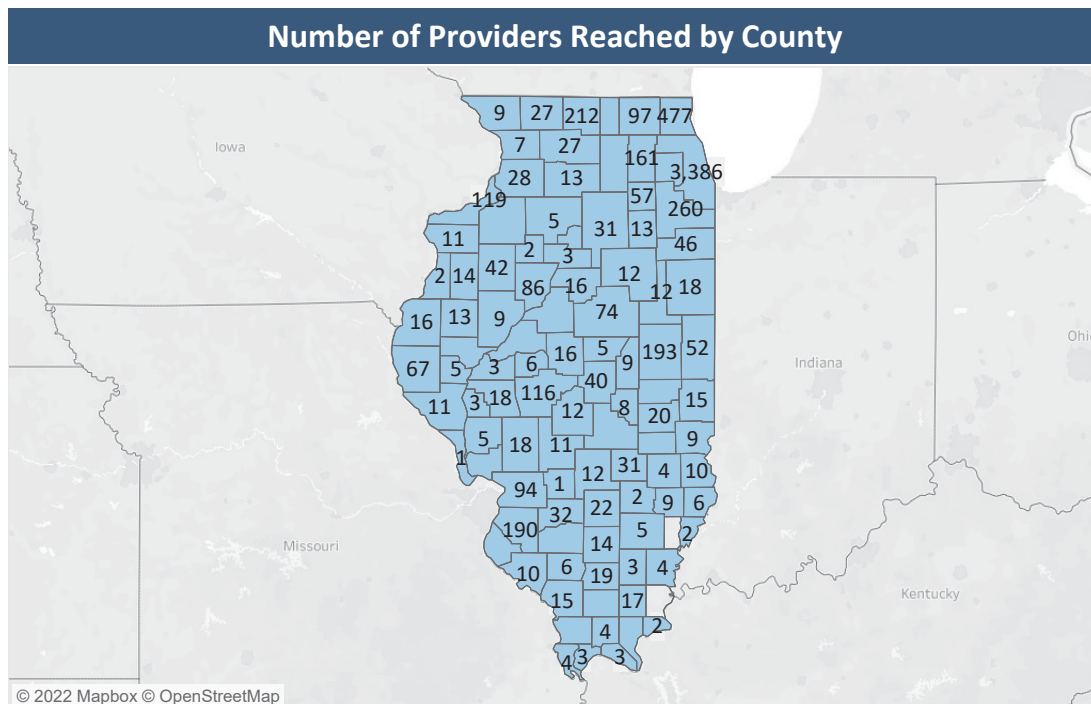

7,035 Child Care Programs in Illinois have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 322,500 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Illinois with $796.3 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Illinois:

- Providers in 98% of Illinois counties have received funds.
- 3,005 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 4,030 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- On average, child care centers have received an award of $169,400 and family homes received $9,000. The final award sizes are expected to increase as payments continue into 2023.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

Indiana ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

3,270 Child Care Programs in Indiana have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 157,100 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Indiana with $540.2 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Indiana:

- Providers in 98% of Indiana counties have received funds.
- 1,435 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 1,835 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- On average, child care centers have received an award of $315,900 and family homes received $47,500.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

Iowa ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

1,820 Child Care Programs in Iowa have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 63,000 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Iowa with $227.6 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Iowa:

- Providers in 98% of Iowa counties have received funds.
- 685 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 1,135 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- Stabilization payments are expected to continue through 2022.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

Kansas ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

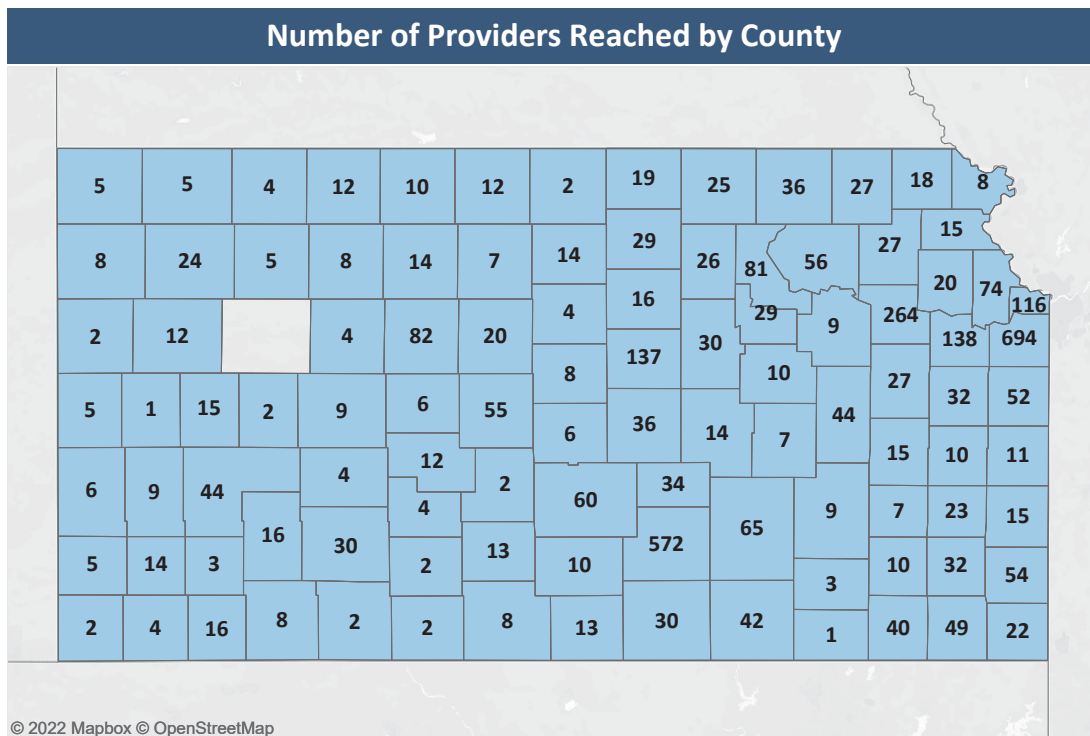

3,810 Child Care Programs in Kansas have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 118,600 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Kansas with $213.9 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Kansas:

- Providers in 99% of Kansas counties have received funds.
- 1,035 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 2,775 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- Stabilization payments are expected to continue into 2023.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

Kentucky ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

1,705 Child Care Programs in Kentucky have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 127,500 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Kentucky with $470.1 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Kentucky:

- Providers in 98% of Kentucky counties have received funds.
- 1,520 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 185 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- Stabilization payments are expected to continue into 2023.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

Louisiana ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

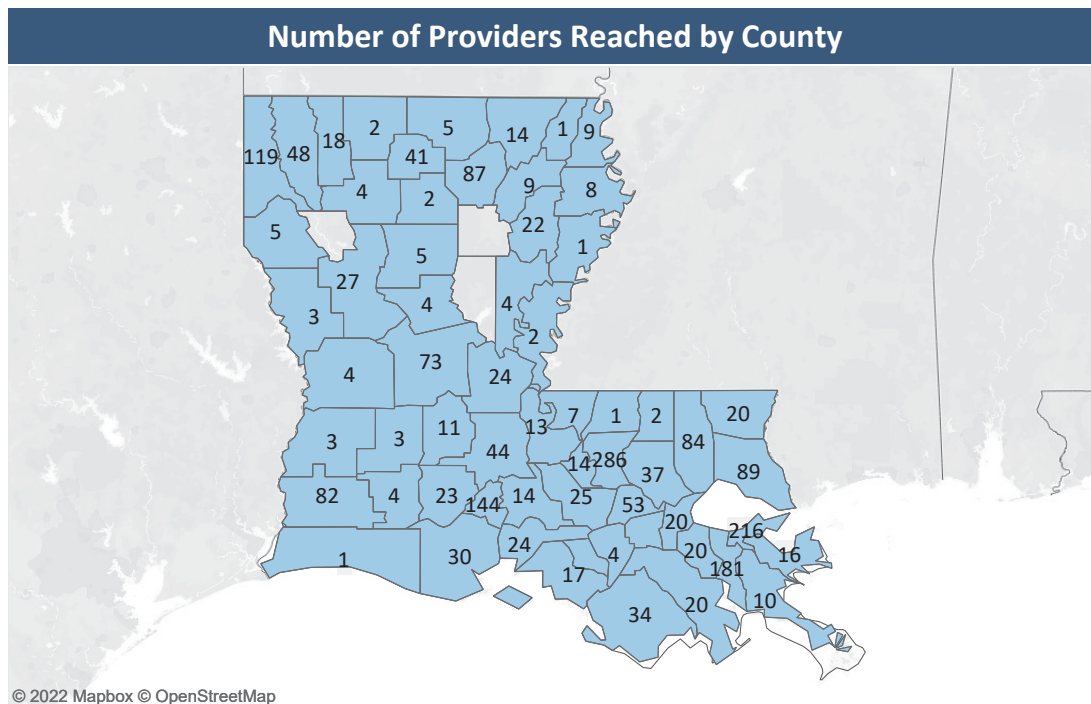

2,100 Child Care Programs in Louisiana have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 149,700 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Louisiana with $475.7 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Louisiana:

- Providers in 95% of Louisiana counties have received funds.
- 1,780 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for goods and services necessary to operate the program.
- 320 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for goods and services necessary to operate the program.
- On average, child care centers have received an award of $171,200 and family homes received $18,100. The final award sizes are expected to increase as payments continue into 2023.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

Maine ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

1,500 Child Care Programs in Maine have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 46,400 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Maine with $73.2 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Maine:

- Providers in 100% of Maine counties have received funds.
- 790 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments to help ensure their doors stayed open.
- 710 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- On average, child care centers have received an award of $57,000 and family homes received $12,700. The final award sizes are expected to increase as payments continue through 2022.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

Maryland ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

5,860 Child Care Programs in Maryland have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 171,300 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Maryland with $309.1 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Maryland:

- Providers in 100% of Maryland counties have received funds.
- 2,060 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 3,800 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- On average, child care centers have received an award of $76,200 and family homes received $29,200. The final award sizes are expected to increase as payments continue through 2022.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

Massachusetts ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

6,530 Child Care Programs in Massachusetts have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 202,400 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Massachusetts with $314.4 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Massachusetts:

- Providers in 100% of Massachusetts counties have received funds.
- 2,440 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 4,090 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- On average, child care centers have received an award of $95,500 and family homes received $12,800.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

Michigan ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

6,270 Child Care Programs in Michigan have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 282,300 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Michigan with $700.7 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Michigan:

- Providers in 100% of Michigan counties have received funds.
- 3,100 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 3,170 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- On average, child care centers have received an award of $207,600 and family homes received $28,600.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

Minnesota ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

7,865 Child Care Programs in Minnesota have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 204,300 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Minnesota with $324.2 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Minnesota:

- Providers in 100% of Minnesota counties have received funds.
- 2,085 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 5,780 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- Stabilization payments are expected to continue into 2023.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

Mississippi ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

1,110 Child Care Programs in Mississippi have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 86,400 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Mississippi with $319.5 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Mississippi:

- Providers in 96% of Mississippi counties have received funds.
- 1,040 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments to help ensure their doors stayed open.
- 70 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- On average, child care centers have received an award of $276,400 and family homes received $184,200. The final award sizes are expected to increase as payments continue through 2022.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

Missouri ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

ARP's historic investment provided Missouri with $444.1 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers nationwide remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Missouri:

- Providers began applying to receive stabilization funds in September 2022.
- At least 90% of the total grant is dedicated to developing and strengthening the child care workforce.
- Stabilization payments are expected to continue into 2023.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

Montana ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

920 Child Care Programs in Montana have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 24,000 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Montana with $68.1 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Montana:

- Providers in 75% of Montana counties have received funds.
- 330 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 590 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- Stabilization payments are expected to continue into 2023.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

Nebraska ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

2,265 Child Care Programs in Nebraska have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 103,600 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Nebraska with $143.1 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Nebraska:

- Providers in 86% of Nebraska counties have received funds.
- 920 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 1,345 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- On average, child care centers have received an award of $82,900 and family homes received $16,400. The final award sizes are expected to increase as payments continue through 2022.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

Nevada ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

645 Child Care Programs in Nevada have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 32,600 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Nevada with $222.4 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Nevada:

- Providers in 71% of Nevada counties have received funds.
- 270 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 375 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- Stabilization payments are expected to continue into 2023.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

New Hampshire ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

590 Child Care Programs in New Hampshire have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 43,100 Children

ARP's historic investment provided New Hampshire with $47.7 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In New Hampshire:

- Providers in 100% of New Hampshire counties have received funds.
- 535 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 55 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- On average, child care centers have received an award of $81,400 and family homes received $53,200. The final award sizes are expected to increase as payments continue through 2022.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

New Jersey ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

3,780 Child Care Programs in New Jersey have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 304,600 Children

ARP's historic investment provided New Jersey with $427.5 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In New Jersey:

- Providers in 100% of New Jersey counties have received funds.
- 3,055 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 725 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- Stabilization payments are expected to continue into 2023.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

New Mexico ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

1,000 Child Care Programs in New Mexico have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 49,400 Children

ARP's historic investment provided New Mexico with $197.1 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In New Mexico:

- Providers in 91% of New Mexico counties have received funds.
- 525 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 475 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- On average, child care centers have received an award of $282,500 and family homes received $17,800. The final award sizes are expected to increase as payments continue into 2023.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

14,895 Child Care Programs in New York have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 646,900 Children

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

- Providers in 100% of New York counties have received funds.
- 5,855 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 9,040 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- On average, child care centers have received an award of $89,100 and family homes received $40,900. The final award sizes are expected to increase as payments continue into 2023.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

North Carolina ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

4,205 Child Care Programs in North Carolina have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 371,000 Children

ARP's historic investment provided North Carolina with $805.8 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In North Carolina:

- Providers in 99% of North Carolina counties have received funds.
- 3,045 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 1,160 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- Stabilization payments are expected to continue into 2023.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

North Dakota ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

900 Child Care Programs in North Dakota have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 32,800 Children

ARP's historic investment provided North Dakota with $46.7 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In North Dakota:

- Providers in 92% of North Dakota counties have received funds.
- 380 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 520 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- Stabilization payments are expected to continue into 2023.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

Ohio ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

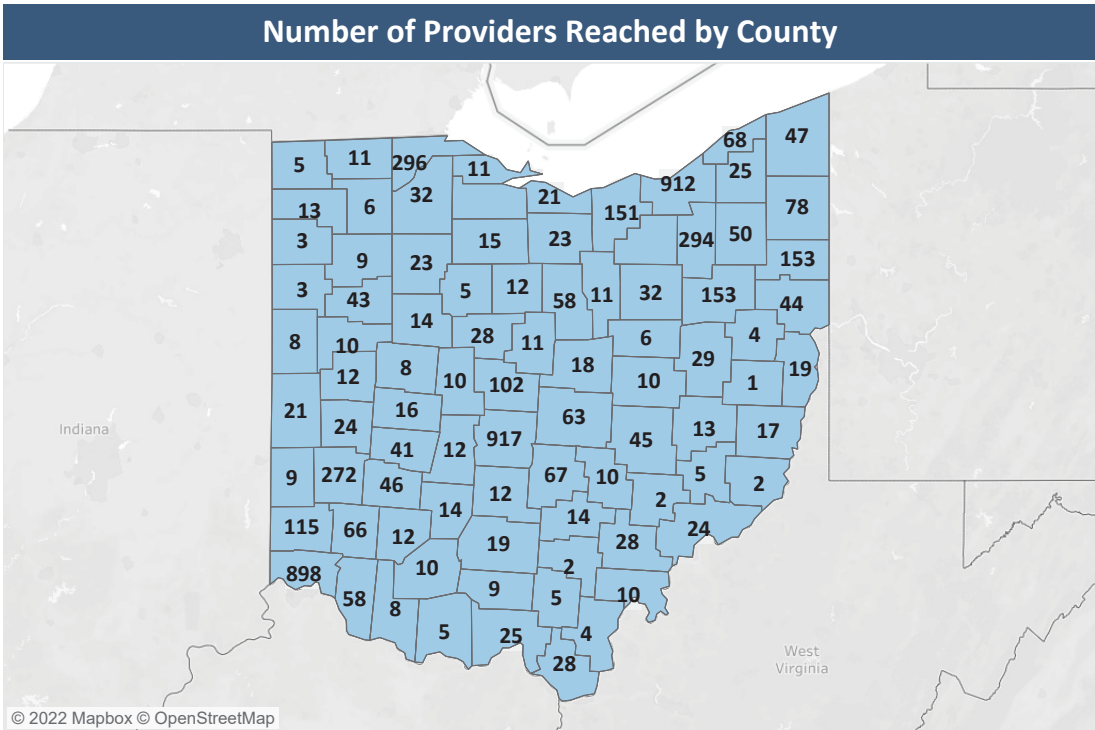

5,650 Child Care Programs in Ohio have already Received American Rescue Plan
Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 365,100 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Ohio with $799.8 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Ohio:

- Providers in 100% of Ohio counties have received funds.
- 3,585 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 2,065 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- Stabilization payments are expected to continue into 2023.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

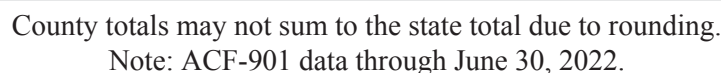

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

2,265 Child Care Programs in Oklahoma have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 96,300 Children

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

- Providers in 99% of Oklahoma counties have received funds.
- 1,090 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 1,175 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- Stabilization payments are expected to continue into 2023.

 ADMINISTRATION FOR
CHILDREN & FAMILIES

Office of Child Care

Oregon ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

3,320 Child Care Programs in Oregon have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 82,200 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Oregon with $248.9 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Oregon:

- Providers in 97% of Oregon counties have received funds.
- 925 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments to help ensure their doors stayed open.
- 2,245 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- Stabilization payments are expected to continue through 2022.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

OR also provided grants to other types of child care providers that met CCDF and ARP eligibility requirements.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

Pennsylvania ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

6,845 Child Care Programs in Pennsylvania have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 352,000 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Pennsylvania with $728.9 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Pennsylvania:

- Providers in 99% of Pennsylvania counties have received funds.
- 4,205 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 2,640 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- On average, child care centers have received an award of $141,500 and family homes received $11,500. The final award sizes are expected to increase as payments continue through 2022.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

Rhode Island ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

1,015 Child Care Programs in Rhode Island have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 51,700 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Rhode Island with $57.3 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Rhode Island:

- Providers in 100% of Rhode Island counties have received funds.
- 650 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 365 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- On average, child care centers have received an award of $76,600 and family homes received $12,100.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

South Carolina ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

1,705 Child Care Programs in South Carolina have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 139,700 Children

ARP's historic investment provided South Carolina with $436.6 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In South Carolina:

- Providers in 98% of South Carolina counties have received funds.
- 1,130 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 575 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- Stabilization payments are expected to continue into 2023.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

South Dakota ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

675 Child Care Programs in South Dakota have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 41,900 Children

ARP's historic investment provided South Dakota with $62 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In South Dakota:

- Providers in 80% of South Dakota counties have received funds.
- 355 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 320 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- Stabilization payments are expected to continue through 2022.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

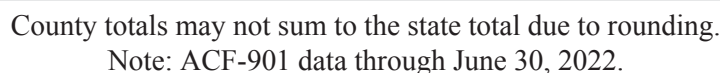

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

1,915 Child Care Programs in Tennessee have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 143,500 Children

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

- Providers in 89% of Tennessee counties have received funds.
- 1,495 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 420 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- Stabilization payments are expected to continue through 2022.

 ADMINISTRATION FOR
CHILDREN & FAMILIES

Office of Child Care

Texas ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

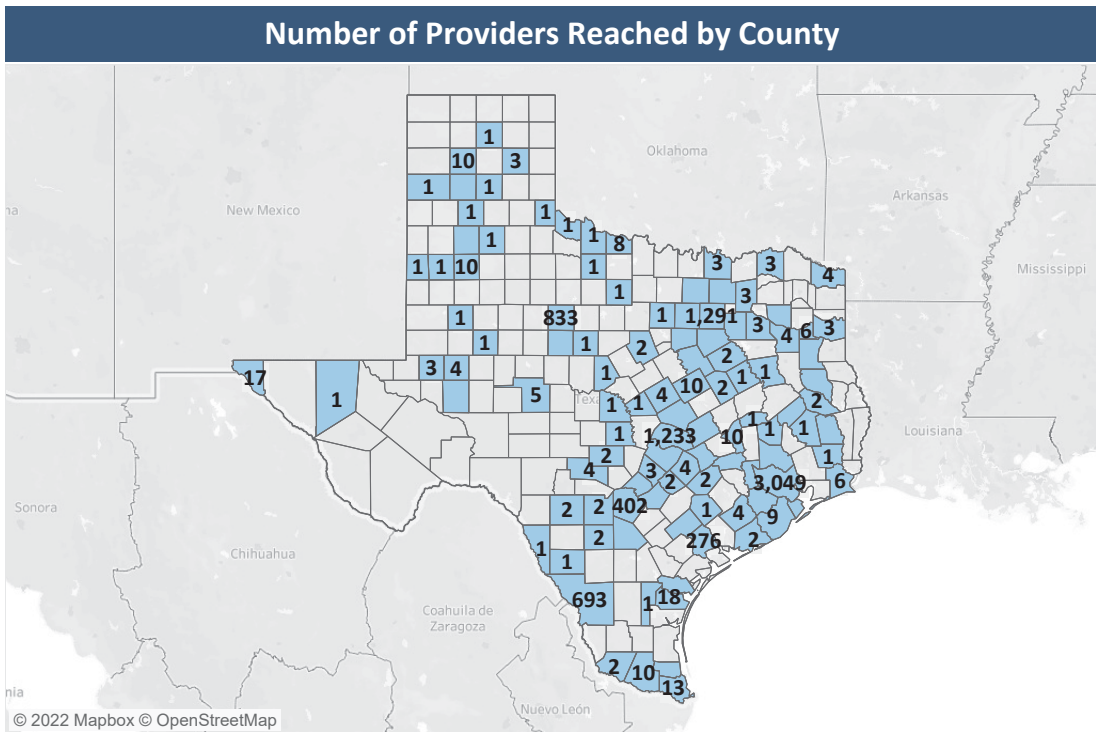

10,650 Child Care Programs in Texas have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 825,800 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Texas with $2.7 billion for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Texas:

- Providers in 43% of Texas counties have received funds.
- 7,615 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 3,035 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- Stabilization payments are expected to continue into 2023.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

Utah ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

1,535 Child Care Programs in Utah have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 80,600 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Utah with $261.4 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Utah:

- Providers in 83% of Utah counties have received funds.
- 690 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 845 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- Stabilization payments are expected to continue into 2023.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

Vermont ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

960 Child Care Programs in Vermont have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 29,600 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Vermont with $29.3 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Vermont:

- Providers in 100% of Vermont counties have received funds.
- 545 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 415 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- Stabilization payments are expected to continue into 2023.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

Virginia ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

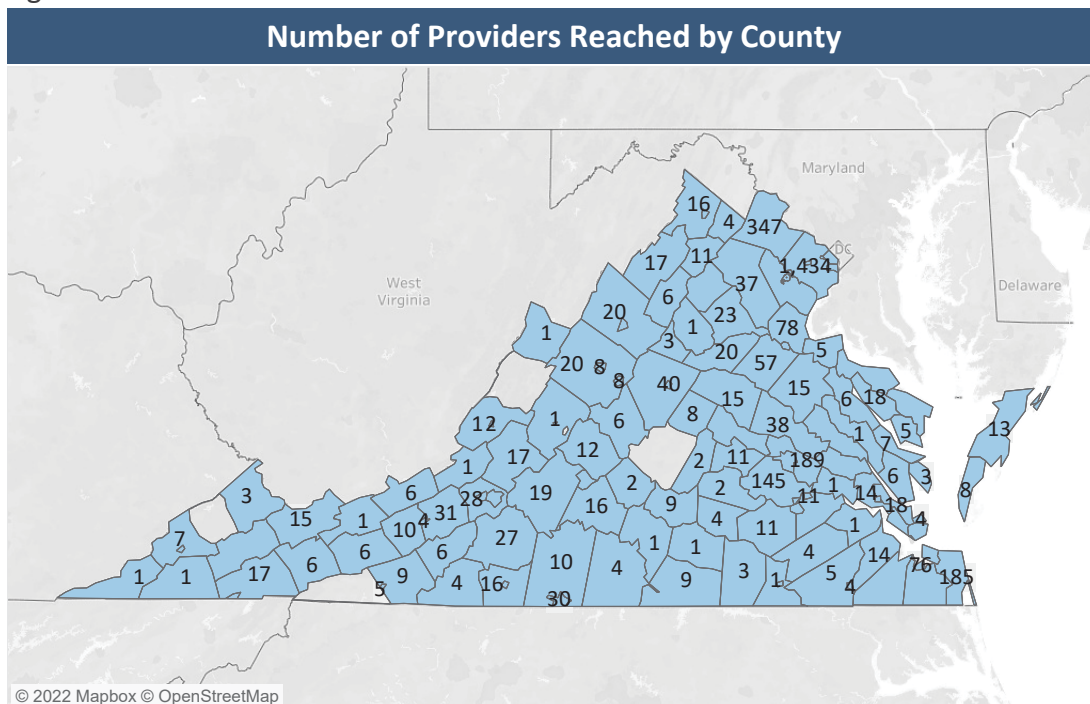

4,970 Child Care Programs in Virginia have already Received American Rescue
Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 317,500 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Virginia with $488.6 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Virginia:

- Providers in 96% of Virginia counties have received funds.
- 2,780 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 2,190 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- On average, child care centers have received an award of $124,000 and family homes received $16,000. The final award sizes are expected to increase as payments continue through 2022.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

Washington ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

6,120 Child Care Programs in Washington have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 169,000 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Washington with $389.6 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Washington:

- Providers in 97% of Washington counties have received funds.
- 1,950 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 3,265 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- On average, child care centers have received an award of $89,100 and family homes received $49,100. The final award sizes are expected to increase as payments continue through 2022.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

WA also provided grants to other types of child care providers that met CCDF and ARP eligibility requirements.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

West Virginia ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

1,505 Child Care Programs in West Virginia have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 58,700 Children

ARP's historic investment provided West Virginia with $160.4 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In West Virginia:

- Providers in 100% of West Virginia counties have received funds.
- 625 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 880 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for PPE to ensure safe environments for children and staff.
- Stabilization payments are expected to continue into 2023.

Wisconsin ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

7,370 Child Care Programs in Wisconsin have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 288,600 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Wisconsin with $357 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Wisconsin:

- 4,140 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments to help ensure their doors stayed open.
- 3,230 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- Stabilization payments are expected to continue into 2023.

Wisconsin's stabilization awards went to more counties than shown on this map. Data is forthcoming. Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

Wyoming ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

355 Child Care Programs in Wyoming have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 12,400 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Wyoming with $29.3 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Wyoming:

- Providers in 100% of Wyoming counties have received funds.
- 255 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 100 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- Stabilization payments are expected to continue into 2023.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.

Territories ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

400 Child Care Programs across the Territories have begun Receiving American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 5,700 Children

ARP's historic investment provided American Samoa, Guam, the Northern Mariana Islands, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands with a total of $308.7 million for their Child Care Stabilization programs. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In the Territories:

- Providers in Guam, the Northern Mariana Islands, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands have all begun applying to receive stabilization funds.
- Stabilization payments are expected to continue into 2023.

American Samoa	Guam
Total Allocation: $30.5 million Additional Data Forthcoming	Total Allocation: $44 million Providers Reached: 45 Children Impacted: 2,000
Northern Mariana Islands	Puerto Rico
Total Allocation: $22.3 million Providers Reached: 20 Children Impacted: 700	Total Allocation: $188.8 million Providers Reached: 335 Children Impacted: 3,000
Virgin Islands
Total Allocation: $23.1 million Additional Data Forthcoming

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

For more information on the national impact of ARP funds see the White House Fact Sheet.